Numb. 172.

THE South-Carolina Gazette,

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, MAY 7, to Saturday, MAY 14, 1737.

On Tueſday laſt arrived here Capt. Carruthers in 8 Weeks from London, by whom we have the following freſh Advices.

FROM Petersburg, Jan. 20. An Expreſs which arrived from Aſtracan and Derbent, has brought Advice, that the Tartars of Dageſtan, and others under the Turkiſh Dominion, were in Motion.

The Perſian Reſident here has received an Expreſs, from his Court, with an Account, That the Peace, being proclaimed at Iſpahan, had cauſed very great Joy there; and that the new Sophy, Kouli Kan, was obliged to remain on the Frontiers, to watch the Motion of the Malecontent Perſians, who refuſe to acknowledge him as King.

Paris, Febr. 20. A Courier is arrived from the Marſhal du Bourg with Advice, that the Fortreſſes of Kehl and Philipsburg were delivered up to the Imperialiſts the 8th Inſtant, after having raiſed the new Fortifications which had been made there; and that the taking Poſſeſſion of the Dutchy of Lorrain was deferr'd until the Departure of the future Queen of Sardinia: Madam d'Armagnac ſets out Tomorrow to attend the Marriage of that Princeſs, which is fixed on the 5th of next Month: The Prince de Carignan does not depart hence for that Purpoſe before the 28th of this Month.

From Florence, Febr. 2. That General Wachtendonck arrived here on the Monday before, and had the next Day an Audience of the Grand Duke; he delivered hit Credential Letters from the Emperor to his Royal Highneſs, and met with a moſt gracious Reception. In the Afternoon he ſent him 28 Baskets of Fruits and Sweat-Meats. This General had diverſe Conferences with the Grand Duke.

From Corſica is nothing conſiderable; Don Theodore's Return is impatiently expected, tho' they can hear no News of him. All that has been publiſhed of his Journey to Rome and Naples is meerly founded on Conjecture, and ſo is what has been lately publiſhed from Baſtia, viz. That a Detachment of the Garriſon of Calvi had attack'd and beaten a conſiderable Party of the Malecontents, and taken Don Vincent Antoin de Montemagiore, who commanded them, Priſoner.

From Paris we have an Account of the following Piece of Prelatical Compliance with what are ſuppos'd to be the Sentiments of the Prime Miniſter. A poor Prebend of a Church near Doway died about the Beginning of this Month, N. S. and though they would not allow him to be buried in the Burying-Ground belonging to the Prebends of that Church, becauſe he had lived and died an Appellant from the Conſtitution Unigenitus, yet he was buried by his Relations in another Burying-Ground with the uſual Ceremonies of the Romiſh Church. But the zealous, or rather courtly Biſhop of Arras, not content with the Indignity put upon the Deceaſed, by refuſing to allow him a Place in the Burying-Ground belonging to his Fraternity, inſiſted that he ought not to have had Chriſtian Burial; and, therefore, ordered the Corpſe to be taken up, and put into the Earth again, with the Head downwards, ſo that the Poſteriors and Legs were left ſorking up above Ground, to the great Scandal of all Spectators. As this gave a moſt reaſonable Offence to his Relations, they immediately made their Complaint to the Parliament of Paris, within whoſe Juriſdiction the Place happened to be, and as that Parliament is not quite ſo complaiſant to the Prime Miniſter as ſome of their Neighbours, they were like to have taken the Prelate ſeveraly to Task, on the 10th, but the firſt Preſident le Pelletier, who ſince his Promotion, has become a downright Courtier, adjourn'd them to the 14th, and in the Interim out comes an Arret of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty's Council, forbidding the Parliament to take any Cognizance of that Affair; whereupon they have reſolved to remonſtrate; but conſidering the numerous ſtanding Army in that Kingdom, it is thought their Remonſtration will not be much regarded.

The Spaniards finiſhed the Embarkation of their Troops at Leghorn on the 29th of laſt Month, and the ſame Day their Tranſports, being 36 in Number, under Convoy of ſeven Men of War ſet Sail with a favourable Wind for Spain. On the 10th of laſt Month, the Commiſſioners for taking Poſſeſſion of the Dutchy of Bar in the Name of King Staniſlaus, being arrived in that City, the Letters Patent by which the Duke abſolved the Subjects of that Dutchy from all Allegiance to him, were read; and then in preſence of the ſaid Commiſſioners they took a new Oath to K. Staniſlaus with the uſual Ceremonies: About the ſame Time the French delivered up Fort Kehl and Philipsbourg to the Germans, having firſt demoliſh'd all the new Works which had been added by the French ſince they were in their Poſſeſſion.

On the 20th Inſtant N. S. the Count de Maurepas, Secretary of State went by the King of France's Orders, to the Sieur Chauvelin's, Keeper of the Seals of France, and Miniſter and Secretary of State for foreign Affairs, to demand the Seals to be delivered up, and he afterwards carried them to his Majeſty, who gave the Seals to the Sieur Daguſſeau, Chancellor of France, and appointed the Sieur Amelot, Intendant of the Finances, to be Miniſter and Secretary of State for foreign Affairs, and the Sieur Orry de Fulvy, to be Intendant of the Finances; but what was the Cauſe of this great Change in the Adminiſtration, or what Alterations it may produce in their Politicks, does not yet appear.

From Barcelona, that the Spaniſh Men of War and Tranſports are ſafely arrived in the ſeveral Ports of Catalonia, after having withſtood a violent Storm; that the Expedition ſo much talked is dropt, or at leaſt laid aſide till a more favourable Opportunity offers; and that the Ships hired for that Purpoſe were diſcharged: But all the Land Officers, however, are ordered to repair to their reſpective Poſts, and to have their Companies complete before the firſt of March upon Pretence of forming a Camp between Segovia and St. Ildefonſo, for the Diverſion of the Court.

LONDON, Febr. 15.

Yeſterday Morning, between five and ſix o'Clock, died at his Houſe in Lincoln's Inn Fields, the Right Honourable Charles Lord Talbot, Baron Henſol, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain. His Virtues in private Life make his Loſs univerſally regretted; and his Juſtice, Penetration, Wiſdom, Sweetneſs of Temper, and unbiaſſed Integrity, in every Action of his publick Life, will cauſe his Death to be long conſidered by all Mankind as a publick Calamity.

His Lordſhip died in the 54th Year of his Age, and might be ſaid, as to himſelf and Deſcendants, to have lived long enough for his Glory, having reached and adorned the higheſt Honours of his Profeſſion with univerſal Eſteem and Applauſe; but it has fallen very far ſhort of the Wiſhes of all good Men; ſince every Day of his important Life, gave a moral Certainty of endearing him ſtill more and to all true Engliſhmen, and particularly to every one who ſought the Aſſiſtance of his equitable Deciſions, and almoſt unerring Judgment; and which, as he died in the full Vigour of all his Faculties, muſt have added a daily Augmentation to his Honour and the Publick Happineſs. In ſhort, he might be truly ſaid to be, while a Pleader, the great Ornament of the Bar; when he graced the Seals, the Glory of the Bench; and upon the Whole, an Honour to human Nature in general.

His Lordſhip was made Lord Chancellor Nov. 28, 1733. He has left behind him three Sons: The now Right Hon. William Talbot Lord Henſol (Knight of the Shire for Glamorgan); the Hon. John Talbot, Eſq; Member of Parliament for Brecon; and the Hon. George Talbot, Eſq; Who, as by their excellent Diſpoſitions they meritted the Indulgence of the beſt of Fathers and one of the beſt of Men, ſo were they treated by him, in ſome meaſure, as Companions, as well as Sons; and having thereby the immediate Benefit of ſuch an inimitable Example, no Wonder they inherit the Virtues and good Qualities of ſo illuſtrious a Relation.

How that great Station will be fill'd up we don't know, tho' the Lord Hardwick is talk'd of for that Dignity, and that Mr Juſtice Lee, of the Court of King's Bench, will be made Lord Chief Juſtice in the room of the Lord Hardwick.—This Lord was attended, at his Death, by only one favourite Servant, a Palatine. Juſt before he expir'd he ſaid, it is in vain to ſtruggle, the Lord muſt be obey'd, and ſo gave up the Ghoſt. His Will was wrote on half a Sheet of Paper all with his own Hand.

Febr. 18. Yeſterday his Majeſty appeared in Publick, being pretty well recovered of his late Indiſpoſition, and attended at a Council held at St: James's; when, we hear, the Right Hon. the Lord Hardwicke was appointed Lord High Chancellor of Great-Britain.

The Earl of Waldegrave, his Majeſty's Ambaſſador at the Court of France, has received orders to continue there, his Preſence being neceſſary at that Court in the preſent Juncture of Affairs.

Febr. 22. The Weather is ſo mild at Copenhagen, that ſeveral Ships arrive daily in the Road of that City, and continue their Voyage in the utmoſt Safety to the different Ports to which they are bound: While at Venice the Weather has not been known to be colder in the Memory of Man; all the Rivers are frozen up; and as there has been no Rain for near four Months paſt, freſh Water begins to be very ſcarce.

Advice is come to Leghorn, that 500 Genoeſe having ſallied out from Baſtia, they were ſurrounded in ſuch a manner, and ſo warmly received, by the Corſicans, that not above 100 of them eſcaped being cut to Pieces.

This Day is the Anniverſary of the Birth-day of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Mary, when ſhe enters into the 14th Year of her Age: Their Majeſties will receive the Compliments on that Occaſion.

The Lord Chief Juſtice Hardwicke was ſworn in Lord Chancellor of Great-Britain in a grand Council held laſt Night before his Majeſty at St. James's.

LONDON, Febr. 26.

Notwithſtanding what is written from Madrid, of the Spaniſh Men of War, having been ordered to be laid up, and of the Tranſports being to be diſcharged, Letters from Genoa by way of Paris tell us, that the Armament at Barcelona grows every Day more formidable; but the Motive of it is ſtill kept ſecret.

The Spaniſh Miniſters hold frequent Conferences concerning the ſeveral Prizes taken by the Guard de Coſta in the Weſt Indies; and, in order to juſtify that Conduct, a Liſt has been drawn up of the ſaid Ships, which are pretended to have carried contraband Goods: The Captains Names are ſet down, as alſo the Particulars of their Cargoes.

March 1. The ſix Men of War for the Weſt Indies are ordered to ſail in April next; on board of which the new Governors of ſome of his Majeſty's Plantations will embark.

March 2. Yeſterday the Anniverſary of her Majeſty's Birth-day, when ſhe entered into the 55th Year of her Age, there was at Noon a numerous and ſplendid Court at St James's. About one o'Clock their Majeſties, their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, &c. appeared at the Drawing Room, and were complimented on that Occaſion. The Guns in the Park, and at the Tower, were fired, to the Number of her Majeſty's Years; and the Night concluded with Bonfires, and other Demonſtrations of Joy.

At Night there was a Ball, which began about 10 o'Clock, with a Minuet by their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales.

The ſame Day the Right Hon. the Lord Grantham, Chamberlain to her Majeſty, gave a ſplendid Entertainment to the foreign Miniſters and other Perſons of Diſtinction.

Sir Charles Wager was Yeſterday at Court, and appeared in good State of Health.

The ſame Day a Gentleman of Diſtinction obtained a Sentence of Divorce in the Biſhop of London's Court, againſt his Wife, for Adultery.

CHARLESTOWN, May 14.

We have had here this Week for four Days and Nights together a continual Rain, with a North-East Wind blowing very high, and we hear that in ſeveral Places in the Country great Numbers of Cattle are drowned by the Freſhes overflowing. Not only this, but it being now the Time for planting Rice, it is feared, moſt of our Planters will feel the ſad Effects of this Weather, the like at this time of the Year has never been known before. Thoſe that have any Senſe of Religion, look upon it as a Chaſtiſement of divine Vengeance for the Luxury and Pride of the Inhabitants, tho' no meaſures are taken to avert it.

Some

Some Errors having ſlipt in the Proclamation Printed in laſt Weeks Gazette, the kind Reader is desired to correct the ſame according to the following true Copy of the Original.
